Letter of Recommendation

It is my pleasure to give a recommendation to Gleb Semyonovich Kolonin, who participated in an internship at the Smart Meal Service Company under my supervision from June 1st through September 1st, 2022.

In that time, Gleb showed himself to be a very proactive intern, demonstrating initiative and interest in the tasks in the Data Science Department. He used his stellar analytic and exceptional communication skills to meet those challenges, including but not limited to:

- Development of neural network logs parser and scripts for the automatic generation of analytic performance reports;
- Research of PyTorch functions performance;
- Manual marking of images to increase neural network accuracy;
- Neural networks training on the server;
- Analysis and preparation of reports on the quality metrics of neural networks;
- Evaluation of the coding base and preparation of presentations on his own assessment of the project.

Throughout the duration of the internship, Gleb proved to be extremely hard-working, he willingly takes initiative, and is goal-oriented.

Please do not hesitate to direct any questions to me at your convenience to my Telegram link: https://t.me/AndKuDS or by direct call +79856367345.

Respectfully yours,

Andrey Kudryashov
Head of the Data Science Department
Smart Meal Service
December 5, 2022